WINNING STREAK OF WESTERN FOEMEN

CALDWELL IS WEAK IN THE EARLY INNINGS

on this trip are playing 33 1-3 per cent. baseball, one-third productive and furnish the only championship series. two-thirds non-productive, and that won't get them very far. To-day the Detroits beat them 4 to 1. They, the Yanks, are running into Western formen when the latter are in the thick of a winning streak, and they are prolonging those winning streaks for the Western foemen. The Browns went to six straight, with the Yankees for opposition in the last two games of the six, and the Detroits made it six straight to-day.

The two Yankee defeats in St. Louis were due to chuckle headed base running. The Knickerbocker boys didn't get any chance to run bases to-day. They were not on them often enough. The high class pitching of Harry Coverage. eside was their undoing. They couldn't hit. It was the real merchandise in pitching that they couldn't hit, but still they couldn't hit.

Before the Yankees had their bearings the Detroits had jammed home a safe lead. Early drubbing of Slim Caldwell did the business. Caldwell, nevertheless, aithough he inflated his long losing list, pitched well. He was not effective enough in the first three innings to held the Tigars, but from that on he hold the Tigers, but from that on he did the best pitching he has done this year. There was more steam on his fast ball. He pitched as if he was nearing his real form, and among his achieve-ments was the striking out of Cobb once and preventing that mighty man from getting a base hit or anything like it.

Vench a Terror for Yanks.

If Caldwell could have drawn the claws of Tiger Veach it would have been a close game. Veach pronged the offera close game. Veach pronged the offer-ings of the Slim server for three singles and drove in three of the domestic runs. Again it would have been a closer game had Gedeon not wrestled a losing bout with Bush's grounder in the fire game had Gedeon not wrestled a losing bout with Bush's grounder in the first inning. That malfeasance lowered the drawbridge to one Detroit run, and it is possible that there wouldn't have been any in that period if Bush had been turned back, as he would have been by the acceptance of an easy

The Yanks clung to this form of attack persistently, if that is a virtue, but showed more sticktoitlyeness than skill at the prodding process.

But it was not the belief that he could improve his game by chan ing that most valuable weapon, but the utter hopelessness of touch and the mysterious hope which is ever pres-ent that the confident feel may come in a twinkling of an eye with a different club. Yet the fact that the club is new and untried reacts much against success. Golfers must always take into considera-tion when playing a round that it is impossible to make a shot with any club with a wholly open mind, that is, with-out feeling one way or another of what the club has done and can do. If all the players in the championship match play at the Metropolitan last week on the day when the match play began discovered that their favorite clubs were missing their games would go bad sev-eral strokes even if in place of the lost clubs had been put new ones as near like them as possible.
